Irish-Gifts.WS Changes the Face of Gift-Giving by Offering Small Parcels of Irish Land

The US is home to many of Irish ancestry, who can now buy or give their own small piece of Ireland thanks to a unique program offered by www.Irish-Gifts.ws, where visitors can purchase real land in Ireland (one square foot at a time).

Dublin, Ireland – January 23rd, 2008 – Millions of US residents are descended from Irish immigrants somewhere in their family line. The Irish, even those that have never visited their mother country, also tend to take great pride in their Irish heritage. Now a website, www.Irish-Gifts.ws, based in Dublin is making it possible for these proud Irish to own their own small section of real land in Ireland by selling land deeds by the square foot as a unique gift idea or personal collectors' item.

“In an effort to help the Irish in the US and elsewhere get back in touch with their roots, we’re offering the opportunity for buyers to gain a foothold on Irish soil for only $49,” says Irish-Gifts.ws founder Bjoern North. “Ireland is a fascinating country, with a myriad of Celtic legends, turbulent history, and haunting music, and we try to offer those of Irish ancestry a way to reconnect with their past by owning their own little piece of the Emerald Isle.”

The land is sold by the square foot, and buyers receive a numbered certificate of ownership, map showing the location of their small parcel of land, two photographs, and a four-page description of the land with history of the area, all sent directly from Ireland with a full guarantee of satisfaction.

Potential buyers and gift-givers can preview photographs and a map of the location of the Irish land being sold from Co. Cork at Irish-Gifts.ws.
